The Ottawa River is a long winding river that covers over 300 miles. It's natural beauty and surrounding mountains make it one of nature's natural beauties. It is one of the last fisheries with a natural reproducing musky fishery. Over the years, the Ottawa River has produced some of North America's largest released fish, including 3 world-class releases. The Ottawa and the St. Lawrence have every type of fishing available – from top water fishing to spinner bait fishing.

Fishing begins the 3rd Saturday in June and runs until November 30th. June through August is casting time and top water fishing in early morning and evenings. September and October is Big Fish and Trophy Time. During this period, the percentage is high to catch a big fatty.

For casting you may use your own equipment. In the fall, they provide all the equipment, but you may bring your own if you wish.

They release all of their fish. They highly recommend graphite mounts. Pictures and video can be taken during your trip.
